Monte Beck

Dear Monte,

Tell I guess this will be the last time I sign your annual. Another year has gone by. It seems as if I've known you for so long. I wish I could start each line with "Remember when," but with the exception of a few memories, I would just a soon forget our past. To me, a memory can be a beautiful thing, but it can also bring pain and sorrow, for we must realize that the wonderful times in our lives usually only last a short time. Now all we have left is memories of those times. That's why memories, no matter how wonderful, can bring sorrow. The small phrase "I'm sorry," is so short, but it holds more feelings than any other phrase. I've tried to think of a different way to tell you I'm sorry, but I guess that's the only words that express my feelings. I'm really sorry for hurting you. You said you're glad things turned out the way they did, because it helped you gain self control. Well, that may be true, and if so I'm glad. My only regret is that it changed you so much. You used to be so kind and thoughtful. You treated a girl as if she were a piece of glass. Girls really respect boys like that Monte. I guess it's because there are so few who do. If I caused you to change, I'll never forgive myself. If I ever find someone who possesses the fine qualities you did, I'll be very happy. I realize that you're not the only one who changed. I, too, changed. I want more than anything to be myself again. I'm afraid to. I don't like myself anymore either. I can be myself again if I honestly try, but I'm afraid to. I only wish I had someone to talk to about myself. I need someone to try to understand why I act the way I do. I've just changed my mind! Remember about "pajamas"? Honestly I never would have believed such a thing about you. Boy, if anyone reads that and misinterprets the meaning, you're in for trouble. Remember the formal one went to. Remember all the band performances? (Especially my favorite signal?) I think you're the best trumpet player I've ever heard. Just think, maybe you'll be a music teacher someday and have a class full of "Jiffs". Boy, that's an inspiring future isn't it. You know it's too bad we can't see into the future. I sometimes wonder what's in store for me. I hope someday I can help in some way to help you grow spiritually. If there is ever anything I can do for you please let me know. I sincerely wish you the best of everything in life. You are a very intelligent and talented person. You should be wonderful for you. Best of luck to one of the next boys I've ever met.

A friend for life,

Samuel

Monte,
Remember Student Council and all the noise from the back of the room. (Sophomore section) Remember American Problems and all the boring hours spent in here doing other school work. I'll never forget how long winded you were when it came to speeches.
But it passed the time away.

FOREWORD

Nineteen sixty-one will be remembered by many of us for different reasons. To the seniors it will mark the time when Logan's largest class was graduated. To the eleventh grade it will be the year they began to take important positions in the various activities at Logan. To the tenth grade it will be red-letter year because they entered senior high school.

All of us will remember our classes and profit by the knowledge we gained. But we shall also remember the good times we had enjoying the many leisure time activities.

This year our annual depicts our teachers, classes, fellow students and recreational opportunities, so that in the future we may re-live a part of the year 1961.

Dear Monte,
 We don't have many school memories, but I'll remember when you used to call me up when I lived at Zach's. You wouldn't even eat any of my cookies that I brought to school for you. "Gratitude." I remember when we danced at the school dances. Wow! You chicken! You never did take me to a dance, or skating, or show like you said. Oh well!

Mr. Donald E. Field

Maybe some day you can invite me to hear your records

Sincerely,
 Maybe someday if you're a teacher, you'll be teaching my children & I'll tell them all about you so they can be brave. Just kidding! You'll be a success whatever you do!

*My Good Friend Monte,
With all the memories we've had, it is really hard to pinpoint all as even most of them. I ~~don't~~, though, want to recall the time you gave me a ride down to court and in S.C. when we'd tease Miss Jones and my reading of the notes ~~and~~. You were a good friend to me this year and I appreciated it. Best wishes in your future education and throughout your lifetime.*

The most outstanding organization at Logan is its governing body, the Student Council. The council, with the help of its advisor Mr. Raymond Sauer, carry on many activities that benefit Logan's student body.

Each year the council produces a student directory, co-operates with the Pep Club for the Fall Festival, presents the annual prom, sells concession at all home football and basketball games, and makes rulings that have a direct bearing to the Logan students.

President Kenny Anderson presides over the meetings which are held during homeroom each Thursday. Every homeroom has a representative which presents their interests and the senior homeroom has seven representatives. The Student Council elections are held each spring. The student body is divided into two parties for the primary election and the final election is a week later.

Winneshiek Staff preserves

Bright memories for future joy

The producing of a yearbook is more difficult than the average student realizes. The 1961 WINNESHIEK is no exception. The editors, the many hardworking staff members, and their advisor, Miss Mahoney, used many hours of their own time to make this publication a success.

For the two co-editors, the task began last spring. It was their job during the summer to draw a "dummy" or outline of the yearbook. With the advent of the new

Log Staff brings

Old and new news for the public

Logan's LOG staff has a function that is necessary, possibly even vital, to having a well-informed student body. It prepares and edits stories on current happenings, latest sporting events, outstanding students, activities of the various organizations, special interests, who's going with whom, and forthcoming events at Logan.

Producing the LOG is by no means an easy job. This point will bring agreement from the editors and the advisor, Miss Mahoney. Deadline day will usually find the "Pub" crowded with editors, staff members, and advisor, and the tables and any other flat surface covered with the conglomeration of stories, galleys, paste bottles, and pages.

Every book from A to Zed

"Will you please check out this book for me?" This is a familiar question to members of the Library Club. They learn to renew, discharge, shelve, prepare, and mend books. They also aid their advisor, Mrs. Peterson, with little duties and generally improve library service.

This year the club held a candlelight meeting in which each member received a pin. To earn this pin each member had worked in the library two periods each week for a year, had mastered the card catalogue, had held a "C" average, and had attended all meetings.

Other activities include a tea for retired Logan faculty, and a hilarious initiation for new members in which initiates wore different colored socks.

Red Cross helps

All humanity from near and far

"Service" is the motto of Logan's Junior Red Cross. The Red Cross plays an active role at Logan and in the community. Among its services are hospital visits and cards and flowers for ill students at Logan. It works to raise money for boxes which are sent overseas and baskets for the needy. It assists in the "Care" drive and aids the La Crosse Red Cross chapter. It works hard on many drives to finance these projects.

Mr. Thienes directs the activities of the Red Cross during the weekly Thursday meetings. Two members are elected from each homeroom plus one alternate to serve in case of absence of one of the regular members.

Logan's Red Cross acts toward the betterment of La Crosse and its individual citizens.

Y-Teens design

New patterns for pleasant living

"Who are those girls?" This is a common question when a group of girls are seen actively participating in a school or community project. Quite frequently the answer is the Logan Y-Teens. The Y-Teen Club at Logan is one of the most active clubs in La Crosse. Its busy advisor is Mrs. Elsie Vollenweider.

As service projects Y-Teens perform for older folks, carol at hospitals, and work on money-making schemes. For pleasure there

At the close of each school year, delegates are elected by the club to attend Y-Teen Conference. The conference is held at Camp Talaki in Wild Rose, Wisconsin.

At Camp Talaki the girls participate in many recreational and educational activities. The girls return with many happy memories of fun, friends, and worthwhile experiences, as well as a good knowledge of the Y-Teen Program of the Y.W.C.A.

B.E. Club teaches

Neatness and practicality

The qualities and good habits that an efficient secretary must have are many, and all are necessary for true success. To teach a group of girls more than the fundamentals of a secretary's job requires extra work outside of class. The main purpose of the Business Education Club is to provide the extra knowledge needed for efficient business work.

This organization is made up of about thirty-five girls from the junior and senior classes who are taking a business course.

Meetings are held on the second Wednesday of every month. During these meetings field trips are taken, skits are performed, and parties are held. The club's advisor, Mrs. Helen Carson, also finds other activities. The club sees several interesting films each year, and once or twice an office worker speaks to the group. All these activities teach valuable ideas which might be missed in class. They add up to learning in an enjoyable way.

Latin Club

The Logan Latin Club functioned this year as a chapter of the Junior Classical League, which is both a national and state organization for students of Latin. Meetings were held after school on the fourth Wednesday of each month.

Special activities of the year included the publication of a Latin newspaper and the traditional Latin Banquet.

Officers for the year were as follows: consul, Paulette Konrath; pro consul, Trudi Pofahl; scribe, Bonnie Rohrer; quaestor, Joan Kraft; aedile, Mary Jo Paar.

Sponsor for the group was Mrs. Robert Koenig.

Office Pages and Honor Society find Intelligence and hard work pay

The complete efficiency with which our school's office functions would probably not be possible if it weren't for a hardworking group of girls, the office pages. These girls complete many of the small, but necessary tasks that have to be done each day. They have to collect the absentee slips from the various classes, take passes to students and faculty members, and many other jobs.

Three years ago, a new organization, the Hoongerah Chapter of the National Honor Society, was formed at Logan. It was instituted to convey the principles of leadership, service, character, and scholarship to the student body.

This year's officers are: Duane Kidd, president; Carl Darling, vice-president; Sue Schmuck, secretary; Sandy Finanger, treasurer.

One of the most indispensable organizations at Logan is the Sound Crew. The members of the crew contribute to the success of a great many of our school's activities through their knowledge of different electronic devices.

The boys display their skill by setting up public address systems for basketball games and dances, keeping movie projectors and other sound equipment in good repair, and taking care of timekeeping and the scorekeeping for B squad basketball games.

Mr. Ranis is the advisor.

"Lights! Curtain!" These are familiar calls to members of the Stage Crew. The stage crew are the "boys behind the scenes" who operate the mechanical devices for all of our assemblies. The boys work afternoons and evenings, under the direction of Mr. Krumel, building sets, painting scenery, and producing special lighting effects for assemblies.

Although the crew has only five members, it deserves much credit for helping to make Logan's dramatic presentations and other assemblies a success.

Logan's basketball squad under the mentorship of its new coach Mr. Wayne Lukas had compiled a record of five wins and eleven After successive losses to Tomah, Barraboo, Sparta, and Winona, Logan trounced Menomonie 75 - 57. The Rangers were outpointed by Aquinas in a hard fought contest, 71 - 58, before edging out Cotter 64 - 62. After five straight losses, Logan came up with three wins in row. Logan's divot diggers came out on the bottom end of a three and nine record in the 1960 season. One of the least appreciated of Logan's sports groups is the fine tumbling squad. In addition to this, they performed at the recreation-faculty game and participated in a meet with area schools at LaCrosse State College.

Practice is held after school in the old gym on Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday and sometimes at the college when conditions permit. A new trampoline was added to the tumbling squad's equipment this year.

Unique among Logan's many organizations, societies, and clubs, is the L. C. Club. Its unusual characteristics are that it has no meetings, no dues, and no officers. The only requirement for membership is a letter in any sport.

Membership in the L. C. Club is on an equal level with being an honor student, or an officer in an organization. Boys constantly strive to better themselves and perfect their sports ability so they can win the coveted letter that will make them a permanent member of this exclusive club.

The Logan Track squad, under the direction and guidance of Mr. Aarstad, had a very successful 1960 season. The Ranger cindermen were led by Earl Jensen who, during the course of the season, broke two city records. Earl sailed the discus 147 feet 9 inches to break his own record by exactly five feet. The same day at Swanson Field in a meet with Tomah, he heaved the shot 51 feet 9 1/4 inches to beat Jerry Bahr's old record of 51 feet 8 3/4 inches by only half an inch.

Logan also defeated Tomah and Sparta in a triangular meet; Onalaska, and Sparta were beaten in a dual meet. The track men placed third in the sectional meet behind Central which placed second.

Co-captains

Mr. Bill Towner's diamond squad, like the other teams in Logan's spring sports program, had a pretty rough time of it in the 1960 campaign. The Ranger baseball team found the range for only two victories against six losses. Ironically, the two teams that went down to defeat, Aquinas and Winona Cotter, were previously unbeaten.

The 1960 addition of the Ranger tennis squad met tough opposition during its season, and it won one contest and dropped seven. The squad, under the leadership of its coach Mr. Kolcinski, was in the process of rebuilding a completely new team. Logan lost five consecutive games, two each to Onalaska and Winona and one to Central, before beating Eau Claire by a score of 4-3.

Bob Kuehl reaches for a hard one.

Music and drama

Door-to-door selling really pays off!

The band performs for the Memorial Day parade.

Band plays

Music for listener and marcher

"Roll off," is a familiar call to all of the participants in the Logan Band. The band is Logan's representative in parades throughout the year. On Memorial Day, 1961, the band showed off its new uniforms.

The activities of the band include the Christmas program, playing for the school assemblies, participating in the Spring Concert, and providing music for our home football games. Members of the band form the Pep Band, which plays for all home basketball games, and at least one out-of-town game.

The director of the band is Mr. Loyd Meiden.

Swing Band and Orchestra provide

Fine modern as well as traditional Swing Band

Each year several members of Logan's band form the Recreational Swing Band. This group is responsible for the music that greets the student body as they arrive at the auditorium for an assembly.

The Swing Band, a very rhythmic group of musicians, also helped in the money-raising project for the band uniforms by sponsoring three dances during the course of the year.

Orchestra

Symphony, jazz, pop tunes, you name it and they'll play it. By "they" we mean our very active orchestra under the direction of Mr. Meiden.

Although small in number, the orchestra is by no means weak in ability. They play for our Christmas, Easter, Thanksgiving, and Spring Concert assemblies, as well as for Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises.

The highlight of this year was the combining of the band and the orchestra for our traditional Christmas assembly.

Standing: Alan Larson, Judy Duckworth, Loyal Felch, Kay Lunde, Mr. Meiden, Jane Ruud, Marilyn Turk, Carolyn

Muth, Robert Dobbs, James Brenstein. Sitting: Dixie Wetchen, Lyle Brenegan, Arthur Ingalls.

A Cappella Choir has Polished style and repertoire

The Logan Senior Choir is composed of seventy-one members from all grades, with the exception of the sophomore girls, who form the Glee Club.

Every day the choir rehearses during the fourth period. When preparing a special program, they also rehearse during weekends and on week nights.

Each year the Senior Choir gives many important performances. The choir sings at civic organizations and at assemblies.

The highlight of this year was the operetta, "The Belle of Bagdad." Other successful performances, under the direction of Mr. Loyd Meiden, were the Christmas, Easter, and Thanksgiving assemblies.

The officers for the choir this year were: President, Tom Lee; Vice-President and Manager, Fred Abraham; Karen Jensen, Secretary; Tom Nibbe, Treasurer.

Choir members rehearse during fourth hour.

Glee Club and Trio please

Popular and classic music lovers

Marylou Smith, Anita Hendrickson, Shirley Kleinschmidt.

The newest member of Logan's musical family is the girls' Glee Club. The group is made up of sophomore girls, who perform at assemblies and at other programs. They wear white blouses and red skirts for their appearances.

In the Christmas program the twenty-seven members of the Glee Club presented a group of very well known Christmas Carols.

TEEN-ETTS

In 1959, three girls, Shirley Kleinschmidt, Anita Hendrickson, and Marilou Smith, formed a singing group called the "Teen-etts." The girls practice during the noon hour in preparation for their many appearances. They have sung at several church services and have appeared at social events.

where the girls also displayed dramatic skill when they portrayed pleasant rides in an elf-drawn cutter. In addition to this, several appearances were made at other assemblies during the year.

The girls are very harmonious, because of their many hours of practice. Under Mr. Meiden's direction they practice during the second period every day.

Dramatics prove

Delightful as well as inspired

Stephani Pofahl, Tim Morrison, and Dave Kerska in a scene from "It Takes A Woman."

This year Logan's fine dramatic department presented several outstanding productions for the enjoyment of the student body and the faculty. The first offering of the year was a one act play entitled "It Takes A Woman." The cast portrays a humorous situation in which a young man, Dave Kerska, wanted to marry a girl, Stephani Pofahl, whom his family, Marty Olson, Maryanne Sammons, and Nancy Keller, are very much against.

Mr. Krumel's group then presented another one act play, "A Wedding." This play concerned the problems and arguments that a young couple has on their wedding day. The cast included: Nancy Keller, Bob Kuehl, Mike Main, Teri Paulson, Dave Kerska, and Buzz Abraham.

Scenes from the one act play, "A Wedding."

Shirley Kleinschmidt, Buzz Abraham, and Roy Birkner rehearse a scene from "The Belle of Bagdad."

Do you remember -

... when Don Hoover played Santa Claus at the Christmas assembly ...

... when the Swing Band played for activity dances ...

... when the teachers sponsored the Halloween dance ...

... or when Mr. Lukas became Logan's basketball coach ...

... Pete Smith crowns Nancy Jenks queen of the 1960 Fall Festival ...

... Gary Paul shows off the new band uniform ...

... the sophomore class won first prize in the float contest for the Fall Festival ...

Monte,
I am very glad I started going with Dennis so that I finally met my neighbor.
You are really a lot different than I thought you were. How what to write in here as I can't remember you just cause you are such a tease. I hope your darling mustache helps you play the trumpet better, although I doubt if you could play it much better than you do. Don't you be too nosy with those Cadillac pants on go trying anything on an innocent persons car. Also watch out with those signs on your truck.
all those girls at root beer when you get your turn again the fair of blossoms of course. Or maybe talking?
Well, always stay the nice person you are and the best of luck in the future.
Be good now and don't be a bad influence! (I didn't say that!)
Your friend always,
Dave

"Count,"

Remember all the times in Physics class
when we would sleep when you talked to Balch.
Anyway it was all in fun + you a great kiddler.
Good luck with your car dreams + hope you finally realize what a pile of s--- a Volswagen is. Good luck at LA + state + see you there.

Sincerely,
Dave
Hanson

Monte,
I sure wish you the best!
Luck in college.
You're really a good kid, but I enjoyed slapping your face in a whirl!

Best wishes

 It's been a lot of fun knowing you this year. It's really
